

Otto Bock Announces Employee Promotion in Professional and Clinical Services

MINNEAPOLIS, MN – Otto Bock HealthCare announces the promotion of employee Sarah Kuechle to Operations Manager, Professional and Clinical Services. Formerly the Education Services Manager responsible for developing and managing daily operations of external education events, Sarah has added “Cooperative Care” operations to her responsibilities. A new offering at Otto Bock’s recently opened Innovation Center, Cooperative Care helps customers fit Otto Bock’s advanced products on their patients for a successful outcome.

“Over the past five years, Sarah and her staff have shown great skills in managing the customer’s “Otto Bock Experience” which has significantly contributed to the fine reputation of our educational offerings,” said Todd Anderson, Vice President of Clinical and Professional Services. “I am confident that under Sarah’s leadership we will continue to be recognized as innovators that positively influence the standard of care in our industry.”

Sarah began her career in the prosthetics and orthotics industry immediately following graduation from the University of Illinois, and she brings to her new position fifteen years experience overseeing product development and patient care activities.

“I’m excited to play a critical part in the success of the new Cooperative Care business service being offered by Otto Bock,” said Sarah. “I plan to use my skills to ensure Otto Bock Cooperative Care stands out as a world class service, surpassing the expectations of our customers and their patients from both a clinical and customer service perspective.”
